

"The Washington Post reports that the FCC will make a ruling this month on whether or not to mandate that all HDTV receivers implement copy protection when a 'broadcast flag' is detected in the received television signal."

so you're telling me that I pay $80.00 a month for cable TV and won't be able to record my favorite show when I'm not home ? I seriously have to question why I pay for cable at all when they obviously don't want us to be able to watch what we want.. I say no flag. by the time a movie is broadcast on cable it has already been released in the theatres, and on DVD. I 'd rather buy a DVD to get a movie I want (plus the extras) than waste my time recording them from broadcast.
